

Tech To The Rescue

We provide non-profits with access to pro bono digital services delivered by our tech partners.

Tech To The Rescue connects tech companies willing to use their skills for social good and non-profits seeking technological assistance to amplify their impact. Our services are free of charge.

Get access to pro bono digital services

Speed up your work

Streamline your work with tools that save you time and money. Replace manual processes with automation, optimize document flow, and invest resources in your core activity, not administration.

Help more beneficiaries

Reach more donees and donors with scalable solutions. When you invest resources in real help instead of tools and infrastructure, you can work at a much greater scale.

Get a business perspective

Meet with IT experts and discuss your idea to receive honest and professional advice on the solution you want to develop – all in a friendly and supportive atmosphere.

Tech To The Rescue works only with professional tech companies (not individuals) registered in our database. You can get help no matter your size, area of activity, geographical location and technical expertise.

420+

Since 2020, we have facilitated over 420 collaborations on five continents.

1200+

So far, over 1200 organizations from 45+ countries joined TTTR.

25k

The average value of a single project is estimated to be $25 000.

<5M[♥]

We have positively impacted lives of over 5 million humans and animals.

Register your organization at: techtotherescue.org/ngo

How it works

STEP 1 : You register in our database and we verify your organization

STEP 2 : You describe your tech needs in a project submission form

STEP 3 : We review your project and start looking for a tech partner

STEP 4 : We organize and facilitate a meeting with potential partner

STEP 5 : If there's mutual agreement, you start collaboration!

Get access to pro bono digital services

Speed up your work

Streamline your work with tools that save you time and money. Replace manual processes with automation, optimize document flow, and invest resources in your core activity, not administration.

Help more beneficiaries

Reach more donees and donors with scalable solutions. When you invest resources in real help instead of tools and infrastructure, you can work at a much greater scale.

Get a business perspective

Meet with IT experts and discuss your idea to receive honest and professional advice on the solution you want to develop – all in a friendly and supportive atmosphere.

More questions? Visit our FAQ section at techtotherescue.org/ngo

Thanks to collaboration with Stratoflow, our infrastructure is now much safer and better organized. We also saved hundreds of volunteer hours.

Agnieszka Olszak

Head of IT Projects at Anima International

I was surprised by the efficiency and speed with which everything happened. Within a week, we had a working app. The collaboration was perfect!

Bryan McCormack

Founder of Yesterday/Today/ Tomorrow